Dear Client,

It is with pride and pleasure we advise you that our team will now be leading Garda's Canadian Consulting & Investigations division. Garda, one of North America's leading providers of security, cash handling and investigative services, along with CLI's staff and expertise, will strengthen its position to become the best investigative, executive protection, preemployment screening and security consulting firm in the country. Our joined forces will remain your most reliable business partner to solve difficult issues that affect your reputation, your personnel and your bottom line. We will maintain our mission, vision and values:

Our mission: To remain an authority in private investigation and security by offering specialized, customized services that ensure our clients' global protection.

Our vision: To respect our professional commitments and to protect the assets and reputation of our clients, wherever they are.

Our values: In addition to our integrity and respect, our business philosophy is based on rigorous strategy, absolute discretion and access to a repository of tried and proven concepts, all in accordance with the professional commitments of each of its resources.

From now on, we will personally serve you across Canada, in North America with the valued services of Vance International, also a division of Garda, and wherever your operations may be, all with the recognized and already appreciated worldwide network that has benefited our clients for the past 20 years.

This change fully corresponds to my vision when I founded CLI, which was to become a Montreal-based authority and trusted service provider for the needs of large corporations wherever they are located. This leadership is based daily on example, integrity, honesty, respect and empathy. Well, let it be known that we are at that level with the added value that Garda brings to CLI.

We remain at your service to handle, in full confidence, your delicate and complicated issues. We, Jean and I, will remain in command to lead our resources for your needs.

Cordially yours,

Louis Laframboise CFE
